Election

Dear Examiner Thomson:

In response to the Election Requirement of February 4, 2005, Applicant elects to continue examination on the basis of Invention I (claims 1-23) drawn to an indicator device. The Examiner notes that claims 1 and 24 appear to be generic.

In regard to the species, for the adjusting element, Applicant elects (a) drawn to the rotary element. For the power source, Applicant elects (d) drawn to the battery of the power source.

Claims 12 and 13 are readable on the rotary element.

Claim 14 is readable on the press button switch.

Claim 15 is readable on the toggle switch.

Claim 20 is readable on the battery.

Claim 21 is readable on the solar cell.

A complete set of claims as in this application complete with status indicators is attached hereto.
